Sermon Specific Questions:

1. Luke 12:22-31 is a great reminder to all of us that even in times of uncertainty there are multiple reasons why we don’t need to worry, especially because God is our Father. How does the promise of God being our Father impact your perspective of who He is and what He will do for you? How should this alter the amount of anxiety you may face? How does this encourage your soul and prayer life?
2. We see in Luke 12:23-28 that God illustrates His care for us through promising food, protecting our future, and even providing fashion. Even with these words from Jesus, as well as verses like Psalm 34:10 & 17, why do we still struggle at times with worrying over the needs in our lives? How do you grow beyond your anxieties and put your faith and trust in God?
3. Luke 12:31 shows us that worry is unnecessary when we focus on the right thing. How does having an eternal perspective lessen the weight of worry in your heart and mind? What will you do this week in order to win the war against worry?
